Ballantyne Tells the House of Commons Dominion Government Narrowed Discussion to One Cruiser, Two Destroyers and Two Submarines.

Ottawa, June 29.—(Canadian Press)—When the House opened this afternoon Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King asked if there was any correspondence between the Canadian and British Governments in regard to certain ships to be given to Canada by the Mother Country.

Sir Robert Borden replied that unless it was of a confidential character the correspondence would be tabled.

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne said there was only one cablegram, and that told the British Admiralty that Canada could not accept all the ships offered, but only those which should be discussed, viz., one cruiser, two destroyers and two submarines. This would be tabled before prorogation if the Leader of the Opposition so desired.

MANITOBA VOTERS

CHOOSING M.P.P.'S

Provincial Election To-day; Proportional Representation Plan Tried in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, June 29.—Canadian Press

—It will be late on Thursday before the identity of all of Winnipeg's ten members in the next Legislature of Manitoba is known, according to the belief of Ronald Hooper, of Ottawa, honorary secretary of the Proportional Representation Society of Canada, who is here to lend his expert assistance in the compiling of the list of candidates to be cast in Winnipeg to-day. This city is giving "P.R." its first test in Canada in a parliamentary election, and the presence in the field of forty-one candidates makes the test one of great severity.

The preliminary count to-night of first choice for the candidates may indicate the election of one or two candidates, but the allocation of votes necessary to demonstrate the will of the electorate may be expected to take the best part of forty-eight hours, according to Mr. Hooper.

Fine Day.

No voter is absent from the polls to-day because of the weather, which is perfect, and the development of a good deal of quiet interest in the election toward its latter stages may have its result in a fairly heavy poll.

Fifty-one members are to be elected to-day, ten in Winnipeg and forty-one elsewhere in the Province. There were two accommodations and there will be two deferred elections.

The Norris government and the Conservative Opposition both claim that victory is assured. Labor and Socialist candidates expect to make a good showing in Winnipeg, and the numerous independent candidates are an uncertain quantity.

WILL ASK COUNCIL

TO CUT EXPENSES

Ward 4 Ratepayers Want Economy in School Expenditures

At a meeting of the Ward IV. Ratepayers' association, Saanich, held last night in the Strawberry Vale School, a resolution was passed to the effect that the Saanich Council should be asked to keep down school expenses as much as possible.

The action was taken after considerable discussion and addresses from Dr. H. A. Francis, J. D. Gillie, Reeve Watson and J. Chestham, and others, and the question of "frills" was thoroughly gone into. The educational question received close attention in all its various phases at the meeting, and the decision to ask the Council to cut expenses was taken only after a long discussion on the whole problem.

A delegation comprising Dr. Francis, J. D. Gillie, and T. Raper, with powers to add to their number, were appointed to interview the Provincial government with a view to obtaining some repairs to the section of the Burnside road west of the paved portion of that thoroughfare. It was stated that the closing of the Craigflower route caused heavy traffic on the Burnside road and that the consequent damage has never again been attended to by the authorities.

PATTULLO INSPECTED

IRRIGATION SYSTEM

Vernon, B. C., June 29.—Hon. T. D. Pattullo spent yesterday here, and inspected the improvements to the dam and system of the White Valley Irrigation Company, made under a loan from the Government. Arrangements are now nearly completed whereby a water municipality will be formed to take over this system and issue debentures to repay the loan.

Mr. Pattullo expressed himself as highly pleased with the nature of the work.

He left last night for Kelowna.

GRAPE GROWERS OF NIAGARA REGION GET $100 A TON

St. Catharines, Ont., June 29.—Niagara grape growers, it is said, are making contracts for this year's crop at about $100 a ton. Previous to the Prohibition Act coming into force in this Province, $20 a ton was regarded as a good price for grapes.

BIG NEW EMPIRE WIRELESS CHAINS

British Committee Recommends Links With Canada and Australia

Marconi Proposals Rejected; Cost Too Great; An Undesirable Monopoly

London, June 29.—(Canadian Associated Press)—The Imperial Wireless Telegraphy Committee recommends the establishment of a system of wireless throughout the Empire.

Two wireless chains are outlined in the report, one to Australia, with intermediate stations. A similar communication with Canada must be established, but this can only be done after the conference has estimated the cost, which will be about £1,350,000.

Marconi proposals were rejected on account of the prohibitive costs and as creating an undesirable monopoly.

Preparing for Brussels and Spa Conferences

Paris, June 29.—Premier Millerand, Marshal Foch, M. Francois-Marsal and Louis Dubois, president of the Reparations Commission, will leave Paris Thursday afternoon for Brussels, where the conference will open July 2. The French delegation will number about fifty persons.

The Japanese and Italian delegates will travel on the same train.

ASK FOR HIGHER FREIGHT RATES

Steamship Lines Operating in American Pacific Coast Trade Wait More

Washington, June 29.—Coastwise steamship companies of the Pacific

Commission to-day for advances in freight rates equivalent to those asked by railroads of the West and South. Western roads are seeking an increase of twenty-four per cent, and southern roads thirty-one per cent.

The petition presented by the Pacific Steamship Company and the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company declares that at the existing rates their business is conducted at a loss by reason of unprecedented expenses of operation.

No means of increasing net revenues are available, the petition declares, except through an increase of freight rates, as passenger rates are being cut as a competitive condition will permit.

San Francisco, June 29.—Assembling a hour later than usual to-day, the Democratic National Convention had before it only a routine session—a necessary time-killer—to give opportunity for committee work on the outside and the final perfection of its organization machinery.

A second keynote speech by Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, the successful administration candidate for permanent chairman, was the principal event of the programme.

In Control. San Francisco, June 29.—Administration forces went into the second day of the Democratic National Convention apparently in full control of the situation. Senator Glass, of Virginia, as chairman of the resolutions committee; William J. Bryan, excluded from the sub-committee of nine chosen to draft the platform, while Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, sits as the representative of President Wilson; Senators Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, another staunch administration supporter, chosen for permanent chairman of the convention and administration men at the head of other committees was the lineup brought out of what had promised to be a contest.

The threatened anti-administration fight, so far as it related to the organization of the convention machinery, collapsed without a showing.

At Odds. Administration forces, machine-like in their unanimity of action on other matters, are at odds on candidates, each group supporting its own man.

BOLSHEVIKI WANT VIEWS ACCEPTED

Lenine Still Trying to Have European Socialists Embrace Bolshevism

Paris, June 29.—Marcel Cachin and M. Frossard, French Socialists who are visiting Russia, have been received by Nikolai Lenin, the Russian Bolsheviki Premier, according to a Berlin dispatch to The Echo de Paris.

The message states that Independent Socialists in the German capital have been informed that Lenine told the Frenchmen that reconciliation between the Bolsheviki and Western European Socialism must be conditional upon the admission of the latter to the Third Internationale and the recognition of the right of the Bolsheviki to carry on their propaganda.

Paris, June 29.—The German delegates at the Spa conference will not insist upon the maintenance of an army of 200,000 men according to The Echo de Paris, which quotes an unnamed diplomat who asserts the German representatives will ask the Allies to reconsider their indemnity demands. The Spa meeting, therefore would thus be a mere formality, the newspaper says, and on the other hand, the financial conference to be held in Brussels will be most important and it is possible a financial agreement will be reached here.

BOARD DEALS WITH NATIONAL QUESTIONS TO-DAY

Council of Board of Trade Receives Replies on Preferential Trade

A series of advices despatched to the various British Dominions on the question of preferential trade and preferential treatment elicited some replies to the Council of the Board of Trade to-day. Sir George Foster, Secretary of the Board, presided at the meeting.

The secretary of the Prime Minister of Australia, communicated with the board to state that as the matter stood Great Britain was granted preferential treatment with that country but that did not include the Dominions, but that at the next session of the Australian House the matter was to be re-opened and thoroughly discussed.

Natural Research Bureau. A letter from the Toronto Board of Trade requesting endorsement of the project of the establishment of a Natural Research and Bureau of Standard was taken up, but Mr. Kingham stated that the matter had already been the subject of wires to Dr. Tolmie, who stated that he had been in receipt of many similar requests and that, though no action had yet been taken the question would receive full attention of the authorities.

Too Many Statistics. The Halifax Board of Trade requested that the Victoria Board institute inquiries into the question of complicated and useless returns, stating that the statistics and similar questionnaires to be filled in were too numerous and unserviceable, requesting that these should be gathered into one return, and so save the $12,000 that is reputed to be spent on the administrative work of these returns alone, in the year. The Victoria Board is to draft a similar copy and submit it to the authorities.

BORDEN TO REST. Ottawa, June 29.—Following prorogation of Parliament Sir Robert Borden probably will take a rest of ten days or so.

Mr. Elliott on Stand in Premier Oliver's $50,000 Libel Suit

Writer of Famous Dolly Varden Telegrams is Feature in Sensational Examination in Court; Case For Defence Completed This Afternoon.

R. T. Elliott, K.C., took the witness stand at 11.30 o'clock to-day in his defence in the $50,000 libel suit that Premier Oliver launched against him for statements in his Dolly Varden telegrams to the Premier in the final hours of the last session of the Legislature.

Mr. Elliott was under examination until the court adjourned about one o'clock this afternoon. His examination by his counsel, H. A. Maclean, K.C., lasted only a few minutes.

Mr. Maclean then turned Mr. Elliott over to M. B. Jackson, K.C., M.P.P., counsel for the Premier. For nearly an hour and a half Mr. Jackson wrestled with Mr. Elliott, trying to extract vital evidence.

Mr. Elliott made sensational sallies at the Premier, the Government and other persons while he was in the box under oath.

The court room packed to suffocation during the trial, and men and women who stood most of them with necks craned for nearly three hours, took immense delight in the replies that Mr. Elliott flung back. While Mr. Elliott was in the box, Sheriff Richards was continually calling for order.

At one stage Mr. Jackson asserted that he would have to appeal to Mr. Justice Macdonald, the presiding judge, if Mr. Elliott did not cease giving such replies to his questions.

The Defendant. R. T. Elliott, K.C., was called to the stand at 11.30 o'clock.

Mr. Elliott testified that he began to act for the Dolly Varden Mines in January, 1920. Disallowance of Dolly Varden legislation was under discussion. About the time that he issued wires to bring the Dolly Varden matter before the courts, he heard that legislation was being prepared in Victoria. He went to the Premier's office in Vancouver and asked them to find out whether such legislation was being prepared in Victoria. They got the reply that no legislation was contemplated.

The day before the Legislature prorogued he got word that action to the contrary was being prepared. He then told of the sending of the Premier's telegram to the Premier, and the action of the Legislature.

"I either had to telegraph or let the whole thing go by default," Mr. Elliott swore.

He explained that he was informed through a newspaper source that the Premier gave as the reason for rushing through the

NAVAL ESTIMATES DEBATED BY HOUSE

Clark Said Gift Ships Should Not Have Been Accepted

Ottawa, June 29.—Naval estimates totalling $2,000,000 were brought up in committee of supply in the Commons last night.

Dr. Michael Clark said the Government had been short-sighted in accepting the Imperial Government's gift of ships, in consideration of the financial condition of the country and the fact that the naval policy remained to be discussed at an Imperial Conference in 1921. The Mother Country has "put one over" on the Canadian Government.

Dr. Clark expressed belief in the influence for peace which the League of Nations would exercise in world politics and deplored the waste of money on armaments in Canada. It would be better spent on the education and domestic welfare of the Canadian people. The war of armaments would lead logically to actual war.

An impossibility.

The Government might easily have avoided this expenditure. War in the immediate future was an economic impossibility. Certainly war was unthinkable before the Imperial Conference in 1921. The expenditure committed Canada to a substantial defence in war. The ships would be obsolete in five years. Where was the use of them to Canada?

Canada could not prepare for peace by preparing for war. In any case experts prophesied that the next war would be in the air—a matter of planes and chemistry.

It would be a great mistake to go on with the idea of building up a uniform naval systems. Canada was not in the same position as Australia in needing naval defence.

On Results.

Sir Robert Borden said the national policy could be better defined on results than on conjecture as to how the next war would be fought. Naval defence was as essential to Canada as to any other portion of the Empire. Safety zones on the high seas in time of war were important to Canada. Force was an argument not to be denied in world affairs, and on more than one occasion the weight of the British navy had averted war. Canada must prepare for defence like everybody else.

Mr. Fielding.

Hon. W. S. Fielding said that his creed on naval matters was unchanged since 1903, when the Government had decided that Canada should keep with Great Britain in naval defence.

That policy had never been carried out until now.

While he did not suppose that war was at an end forever, it could be said with safety that war was not imminent. If money could not be found for needed domestic demands, how could the Government justify the introduction at the end of the session of an estimate of $1,700,000 for naval expenditure? The Government should decline the Imperial Government's gift of ships for the time being at least.

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne asked if Mr. Fielding would be willing to carry on with the Niobe and the Rainbow.

Good Enough.

Mr. Fielding said they were good enough to do service during the war, but they would have done better if the Government had not tied them up and kept them out of useful service.

The Government should tell the Imperial Government that Canada must have a breathing spell in which to think it over.

Discussion of the naval estimates was continued until far into the morning. A sharp exchange between Dr. Clark and Hon. Arthur Meighen featured the discussion.

WHEAT PROFITS TO BE PAID FARMERS

Payment on Canada Wheat Board Certificates About July 15

Ottawa, June 29.—Farmers will receive fifty per cent. of the excess due them on Canada Wheat Board certificates, about July 15 next. Definite announcement has been made that this excess on the original wheat price will be at least forty cents a bushel.

Just before the bill to empower the Government to extend the jurisdiction of the Canada Wheat Board, if necessary, until August 15, 1921, was passed by the House of Commons last night, Sir George Foster stated that the Wheat Board would pay fifty per cent. of the amount due farmers out of the profits made by the Wheat Board on or after July 15.

Interviewed by the Canadian Press regarding the exact effect of the announcement, Sir George stated that the exact price of last season's wheat crop could not be decided yet. Several million bushels remained to be disposed of by the Board, but meantime the Board would be able to make a fifty per cent. payment to growers, and this would not be less than twenty cents a bushel. The balance would be payable when the marketing of last season's crop was completed, and not later than the end of the present year.

Task Steps.

In the Commons, replying to Mr. Robb, Sir George Foster outlined the steps taken by the Government to arrange a market for the wheat crop last year. The Government had become anxious over the situation. On January 14, Sir George Foster called on Hon. A. Sifton, who was then in London, that the question of marketing the wheat crop was most urgent. It was suggested that Mr. Sifton and Mr. Robertson should see the British authorities immediately and impress upon them the necessity in the Imperial interest of making arrangements to purchase in Canada. The cable further suggested that the British Government make an offer for 50,000,000 or 75,000,000 bushels at a fixed price or at a price to be fixed later on some agreed basis.

"The Government," Sir George commented, "was interested in getting some sure market for the farmers. The market at the time was in an impasse. It seemed to be blocked and there was no chance, so far as the Government could see, of that block being speedily removed."

At Lowest Price.

Following receipt of the cable, Sir George proceeded, Mr. Sifton and Mr. Robertson got into communication with the British authorities. They answered they received what the Royal Wheat Commission would make its purchases at the lowest possible price, but gave no promise and no intimation as to how much it would take, as to when it would take it or the price it was prepared to pay.

Hon. T. A. Cregar urged that the Government do what it could possible what it was going to do in the matter of control. He did not want to see the exchanges opening for one or two months and then close again.

Sir George replied that the suggestion was a good one and that the Government would take steps early. Present indications were that there would be a very large crop of wheat in Canada and that machinery should be provided. There were difficulties in the fact that the farmers could not market their grain individually. The market would be given the fullest care.

In Case of Slump.

J. A. Robb asked who was to bear the loss if prices slumped fifty cents a bushel and the country was out of $100,000,000. He did not think it was fair that the taxpayers should have to meet this loss. He suggested that the profits which the Wheat Board had in mind should be held in trust against possible loss on this year's crop.

Sir George brought in a further amendment designed to give the Board a preference for exportation of flour rather than wheat when the interests of the country would not be prejudicially affected thereby. Prices of wheat sold to the miller would be fixed as near as possible to prevailing prices. This, it was pointed out, would assist in keeping feeder screenings in Canada.

J. R. Wilson, Saskatoon, thought the Government should do something to cut out discrimination against flour when the matter of ocean freight. Transportation of flour cost fifteen cents a bushel more than wheat.

Wide Awake.

Donald Sutherland said the people of the United Kingdom were wide-awake and would not take what he called a "bribe" because they wanted by-products for feed for their cattle. The people of Canada were asleep in letting the wheat go out of the country before it was turned into flour. He wanted the Government to give a preference on shipments of flour over wheat on Government steamships.

This amendment was carried.

After Sir George had announced that fifty per cent. would be paid to farmers on Wheat Board participation certificates, the bill was given third reading and passed all stages of the House.

FRANCHISE BILL

READ THIRD TIME

Passed By the Commons After Several Amendments Were Adopted

Ottawa, June 29.—The Franchise Bill, which had occupied the House of Commons for a large part of the present session, was passed last night, after several amendments had been adopted. There were several divisions and a brief debate on an Opposition amendment which sought to compel newspapers to print the names of advertisers paying for matter published in support of political parties.

Third reading of the bill was finally passed by a majority of twenty-six after the amendment proposed by A. R. McMaster had been defeated by a vote of eighty-six to sixty. W. A. Buchanan, Lethbridge, and F. L. Davis, Neepawa, voted against the Government in support of the amendment. The farmers' party voted against the Government.

Mr. McMaster proposed that election advertisements in any form bear the name of the person or organization paying for the advertisement.

Writers' Signatures.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie said that evils of election advertisements through public journals were greatly exaggerated. It would be more to the point if newspaper articles should bear the signature of the writer.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King said the important thing was that powerful interests should be prevented from backing a political party without the knowledge of the public.

Hon. W. S. Fielding had an amendment to refer the bill back to committee, with instructions to provide that where there were two or more constituencies vacant, by-elections should be held on one day. The House divided on the amendment. It was defeated by seventy-seven to fifty-eight. A Government majority of nineteen. The Progressives voted with the Opposition.

Enumerators.

Then Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King had another amendment. He would have the bill referred back for amendment in such a way as to do away with the employment of enumerators in rural constituencies. Mr. King argued that doing away with enumerators would save the country around a million dollars. Moreover, he said, he was merely proposing what the Solicitor-General had himself suggested at a conference between both sides of the House.

Mr. Guthrie admitted that at the time of the conference he was willing to follow the suggestion. But, he said, no sooner did he propose it to the House than Opposition members objected to certain features of the bill.

A moment or two later, Mr. Harding warmly charged Mr. Guthrie with having repudiated his agreement and being guilty of a breach of faith.

Denied.

The charge brought the Solicitor-General to his feet.

"I absolutely deny that I have been guilty of any breach of faith," he sharply interrupted. "You have no right to say that."

"Take it back," Government members shouted.

But the House divided without further reference to the incident.

Mr. King's amendment was defeated by 101 to 45. Twelve Progressives voted with the Government.

The next amendment came from W. D. Euler, North Waterloo, seconded by Samuel W. Jacobs, Montreal. It sought to strike out the sub-clause which compels women of alien birth to apply to a judge for naturalization. Hon. Hugh Guthrie opposed the amendment.

Replying to J. H. Johnston, Last Mountain, Mr. Guthrie said that the women's husbands need not appear before the judge. The judges would have wide discretionary powers.

Bigger Indemnities.

After the House had finished with the Franchise Bill, Sir Robert Borden introduced a bill to increase the indemnities to members of the Senate and of the House of Commons. The bill was given first reading.

A Soldier's Protest.

Halifax, June 28.—Hugh F. Hamilton, provincial secretary of the Nova Scotia Great War Veterans' Association, in a letter to The Chronicle, protests against the increased indemnity for members of Parliament. He maintains that the returned soldiers' request for bonuses should receive first consideration.

Body Recovered.

Saskatoon, June 28.—The body of Percy Collins was taken yesterday afternoon from the North Saskatchewan River at Prince Albert. He was drowned "Sunday" while "winning" the river was dragged for twenty-four hours before the body was brought up.

MEASURES PASSED BY OTTAWA SENATE

Ottawa, June 29.—The Senate made rapid progress yesterday in clearing up a number of important executive measures.

The bill amending the Criminal Code, providing that racing shall continue under existing regulations until October 15, instead of until September 1, as first proposed; gave a third reading to the bill.

On the third reading of the bill settling differences between the Dominion Government and the Government of British Columbia respecting Indian lands, Senator Boscawen objected to the measure on the ground that it deprived the Indians of the right of consent before their lands were alienated.

On the second reading of the bill to enfranchise Indians, Sir James Loughheed explained that the measure gave the Government power in two directions. (1) To compel the education of Indian children, and (2) to enfranchise the Indians as soon as it could be shown that full rights and responsibilities of citizenship were desirable.

The Act to assist shipbuilding which came up for second reading, came in for some criticism. Senator Turfitt condemned the policy of giving special assistance to any particular industry as bad in principle, and Senators Edwards, Bostock and Todd expressing similar views.

Senator Crosby, however, vigorously supported the bill, and it was read a second time.

The Senate sent a message to the House of Commons stating that it would not insist on its amendment taking employees of the Senate out of the control of the Civil Service Commission.

VICTORIA CAN DO IT.

Victoria's record for wooden shipbuilding already has been established and more than a score of vessels sailing the seven seas are striking testimony to the quality of the home-made product. Local experience in the construction of the larger type of steel craft has not been so extensive. That is the reason why a great deal of natural pride centres in to-day's launching of the Canadian Winner. Victorians have watched the giant hull gradually assume her graceful lines and there need be no apprehension about her perfection in workmanship. In all this exists much ground for satisfaction. Labor employed at the Harbor Marine Company's yard to a very large extent is supplied from the ranks of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. It may be taken for granted that if negotiations are concluded successfully with the French Government, the achievements of local shipbuilding yards will not be overlooked when the time arrives to award the contracts.

STILLS.

According to the statistics furnished to the Senate by Sir James Loughheed a few days ago the private still industry of Canada is flourishing mightily. In 1917 only 191 of these subterranean little factories were detected by the revenue sleuths, but in 1919-20 that total had grown to 985. We are grieved to learn that our great and good sister, Ontario, shows the most development in this surreptitious branch of the nation's manufacturing industry, with a growth in the number of stills of 50 to 296 in three years.

Hapless Alberta, which in 1917 did not have a solitary private still as far as the official records showed, now has 210. Saskatchewan had 15 three years ago and now has 160. Manitoba had none three years ago and now has 136. Quebec shows an increase of 11 to 43. New Brunswick had none in 1917 and now has eight. Nova Scotia has advanced from one to twenty in the last three years and Prince Edward Island has only one against none three years ago.

Sir James Loughheed did not mention British Columbia, and we contend that the only conclusion which can be fairly drawn from the omission of this fair and righteous Province is that it has not a solitary private still; that not a single private apparatus for concocting beverages prohibited by the liquor regulations of the Province and Dominion is operating in British Columbia. We are sure this must be the case, notwithstanding certain mysterious suggestions to the contrary, which salute the nostrils on a calm, clear evening; for Sir James Loughheed would not have left this Province out of his table of returns if he had any information that among its population there was anybody so depraved as to make alcoholic beverages by stealth.

THE DARDANELLES.

The fortifications along the Dardanelles have been destroyed and, for the sake of the peace of Europe, it is profoundly to be hoped their destruction is permanent. Some day Russia will enter upon an era of sane and sound development and progress and the country around the Black Sea, perhaps the richest section of land on earth, will be producing in vast abundance goods for which there will be a world-wide demand. Never again should the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus be obstacles to the development of that trade, instead of facilities to promote it. The policy which authorized Turkey to dominate and fortify the two straits so that Russia could be hemmed in from the Mediterranean was nothing else than stark insanity, since, on the face of it, it was bound to breed not one war but a whole family of wars, the outcome of which was sure to be a demonstration of its futility. The day in which any nation, not to speak of a gigantic power like Russia, can be kept in a condition of economic strangulation by such means beyond a very small time, has disappeared forever. By the treaty with Turkey the Bosphorus and Dardanelles are thrown open to the shipping of the world and steps should be taken to insure the permanence of this condition. It would not take anybody holding Constantinople long to make the Dardanelles impregnable; indeed it could be done in a very few weeks. This is a matter which concerns Russia more than it does any other country in Europe, and it is desirable, therefore, that when she is ready to assume her international obligations, she will be a party to the agreement that the two entrances to her back yard shall remain unfortified.

THOSE WOODEN HOUSES.

One of the exhibits at the Canadian Industries Exhibition which attracted considerable attention in London recently was a collection of models of wooden houses made in British Columbia. Press reports of the event in general devoted a good deal of attention to this particular exhibit on account of the widespread interest which has been created by an energetic publicity campaign conducted from British Columbia House by the Agent-General. At the Exhibition luncheon Mr. Wade took an opportunity to drive home his arguments in favor of the British Columbia bungalow and this Province's ability to meet the European house shortage by the manufacture on a large scale of the cut-to-fit house. It is to be regretted, however, that the educational propaganda carried on by the Agent-General has been slow to take effect in the Old Country because of the fact that it is not generally realized how common, how comfortable and weather resisting, is the wooden house of this country. On the other hand, there has been lacking sufficient enterprise in this Province to embark upon even an experimental shipment of a dozen or so in an attempt to demonstrate the fallacy of the Old Country prejudice against any departure from the traditional brick and mortar dwelling. Nevertheless, we are convinced that the demand for the wooden house will become more insistent not only from Great Britain but from other parts of Europe as well, in which case this Province—by reason of its more abundant supply of raw material—ought to take advantage of the largest share of the business that eventually will be offered.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We are not sure whether the loud noise we have been hearing the last few days is William Jennings Bryan driving a few nails into the Democratic platform in San Francisco or the hearing of the Oliver-Elliott libel action.

Dr. Charles F. Martin's tribute to what has been done in this Province for safeguarding the public health is very gratifying since it comes from one of the foremost authorities in America. The Provincial Department of Health is establishing a national reputation.

Five out of eight lady typists of the Hansard Department of the House of Commons have struck for higher pay; they are paid thirty-five dollars a week and the demand is for seven dollars a day. The decision to increase members' indemnities and the salaries of cabinet ministers apparently was inspirational.

Much is being made of "admissions" and "confessions" on the part of the Canadian firm which has succeeded in arriving at a commercial understanding with representatives of Soviet Russia to the point that a contract has been placed in this country. The concern is to be congratulated upon its enterprise.

Although the great war is over all the nations that were involved in it, and most of those which were not, are spending more money on military armaments than they ever did in any time of peace before the war. Yet there is probably not a nation on earth which could afford to take on another war of any magnitude without involving itself in revolution and absolute ruin.

The Turkish Government vehemently protests against the terms of the Treaty presented to it by the Allies and already the edict has gone forth that signature will be refused. The events of the last few days, however, may suggest to the Sultan's advisers that the old threat of naval demonstrations—which always failed to "come off"—are now promptly followed by live shells as a reminder that the Turk in Europe henceforward must dance to a tune written in the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles on July 19 last year.

OTHER NEWSPAPERS' VIEWS

A STATESMAN DIAGNOSES EUROPE. The New Republic (New York).

Once again General Jan Smuts shows himself a statesman with a clear eye, a deep devotion to his ideals, and a readiness to speak what seems to him the truth. In those qualities there has in recent years been no political leader in western Europe or America to match him.

The most recent statement from General Smuts comes in the form of an interview which he grants to the correspondent of The London Daily Chronicle at Cape Town. He sees at work in Europe the same forces of disintegration against which he warned his colleagues once when the treaty was signed and again when he called for Africa. France, without the assent of her partners in the alliance, adopts most drastic military measures against Germany, calculated, one could suppose, to destroy the last vestige of government and bring her to the condition of Russia. Farther east another war still rages. Along with Lord Robert Cecil, among all Allied statesmen, General Smuts makes open protest against Poland's invasion into Russia.

DEFENCE PRESENTS CASE TO COURT IN OLIVER-ELLIOTT SUIT

Jury, and the summing up of the judge. After that the jury will be given three hours to reach a verdict. Contrary to expectations, Mr. Maclean did not put Mr. Cromie on the stand.

To Hurry Hearing. To force through the trial and take no chances of it running over the end of the month into legal vacation, Mr. Justice Macdonald cancelled all his chamber hearings this morning, and opened court at 10 o'clock. If there are any delays in the trial during the afternoon sitting a night sitting may be called by the judge, so that the trial will be finished by to-morrow.

H. A. Maclean, K.C., counsel for Mr. Elliott, opened to-day by reading to the jury the part of Premier Oliver's examination for discovery dealing with his 1917 trip to the Coast and Francois Lake, a district where he admired some of the agricultural land. By means of large wall maps Mr. Maclean instructed the jury in details of the north country. He pointed out sections 241, 468 and 469 abutting on one another, which interested the Premier.

In this evidence the Premier admitted that he took an option on section 241 from a Mr. Wallace on his return to Victoria. From the owner, Peter Wallace, he obtained an option on the land at $5 an acre. Then he turned the option over to the Land Settlement Board.

"In the best interests of the country I thought the land suitable and I did not want to enter into any speculation," the Premier testified. "Why did you take that option at all?" Mr. Maclean asked.

"I took the option," replied the Premier. "I thought the land was a good buy. After taking the option I thought it over and decided I should not be mixed up in speculation."

"When I took the land I had the notion of one of my boys taking up the land. I did not buy the land, I only took an option."

"It was almost immediately after acquiring the option," the Premier replied.

"Can you tell me when you took steps to turn over section 241 to the Land Settlement Board?"

"It was almost immediately after acquiring the option," the Premier replied.

"Was it subsequent to that that you began making inquiries about lot 468?"

"Yes, subsequently," the Premier then told how he got in touch with Savage and White in Vancouver in connection with buying the land. He testified that he did not say all he was willing to give was $5 an acre. He could not be sure that no mention was made of the discussion with Savage and White.

Letter Regarding Property. With regard to lot 468, John Oliver, the Premier's son, wrote to Savage and White about the property.

The next time the property came before him was when he received an offer from Mr. Cromie. He also said that just before this on October 10, 1916, he had an interview with Pettley and Keith.

In an interview, chronicled in the Premier's diary the Premier stated there was an interview with Pettley and Keith, who said they had acquired 100,000 acres in the Fort Francis, Francois Lake, Nechaco district, on which they intended to place settlers. There was also a discussion about the Land Settlement Act and how it would affect their holdings.

The whole range of the Act was discussed at this interview, it was stated.

Seeking Information. "My memory is that they came to me to seek information and I treated them the same as anyone else and gave them all the information in my possession," the Premier went on.

"They were desirous of retaining their lands and dealing with them in their own way and evading the penalty tax if they could find a way to do so."

During this interview the Premier admitted that he had thought of acquiring section 468, but Pettley and Keith said that they were not the owners. They gave him the impression that they had passed on this land to some one else.

A Meeting in Vancouver. "I met Mr. Cromie when I was accompanied by my son in the room of the Vancouver railway station," the Premier went on. "I was going to the Cariboo and my son was with me looking for land. Whether lot 468 came up I do not remember.

"I have no recollection of lot 468 coming up again until the letter of March 15 from Mr. Cromie. My recollection of the letter was that they offered me the land for $10 an acre."

Mr. Cromie said that they had been by the Land Settlement Board, but they preferred to sell the whole lot. The Premier had doubts as to whether this letter from Mr. Cromie stated that this land had been bought back to be handed over to him. A Letter Missing? The letter of March 15 was received about March 26. When the Elliott telegram came in April he tried to find the Cromie letter but it could not be found. He enquired both from the secretary and stenographer and diligent search was made but the letter could not be discovered.

The Premier then wrote to Mr. Cromie for a copy of the letter, but Mr. Cromie would not send a copy, and did not even reply, the Premier testified. He telegraphed for a copy but Mr. Cromie did not reply. Subsequently his son obtained a copy from Mr. Cromie for the affidavit of documents in the present trial.

At this point in the reading of the evidence the letter of March 15 was produced by Mr. Jackson at Mr. Maclean's request. The letter had only recently been discovered.

Mr. Cromie's Letter. Mr. Maclean read the letter to the Premier signed "R. J. Cromie." In this Mr. Cromie said that "Pettley and Keith just wrote me advising that they have bought back section 468 and have sent me over the papers in connection with it. Cromie also explained that the Soldiers Settlement Board had applied for a few acres at $15 an acre, but Pettley and Keith were willing to sell the entire section to the Premier for $10 an acre, instead of having a few choice lots taken out of one corner."

Willing to Negotiate. The Premier replying to this letter of Mr. Cromie's was read. In this the Premier wrote: "I am willing to pay the price asked, providing the property suits my son."

He also explained that his son was away from home but he was getting in touch with him.

After writing Mr. Cromie the Premier wrote his son about this lot 468.

"I think this is the best lot not actually occupied in the whole district and one which would make a splendid farm," the Premier wrote to his son, John, who was then in the Interior. "If you would like to farm there I am prepared to purchase this lot for you. I feel it is a splendid opportunity to obtain a splendid farm at a fair price."

On March 29, Mr. Cromie wrote the Premier asking him to arrive at "an early definite decision" regarding lot 468.

On April 2, the Premier wrote Mr. Cromie that he had heard from his son, who is unable to go into the North to farm. The Premier wrote that he was therefore unable to take advantage of the Cromie-Pettley-Keith offer. The Premier added, however, that if he himself were to go on the farm again he would be prepared to purchase this property.

"Not Miss Such a Chance." On April 15 the Premier also wrote his son, John, regretting that he had decided against going on the farm in the North. The Premier said that if he were to purchase this lot he would not miss such a chance. The Premier pointed out that good money could now be made on farms.

"I think you are not making the best of your advantages in your present position," the Premier also wrote.

He informed his son that he had been keeping a sum of money in the bank to purchase a farm for him, but now that he had decided against farming, the Premier informed him that he was going to take this money out of the bank and place it in securities, where it would return some interest.

Mr. Maclean then read the evidence of the Premier dealing with the receipt of the Elliott telegram. The Premier said he did not remember having lunch with J. S. Cowper, M. P., on April 12 and discussing the Elliot-Varden legislation and asking Mr. Cowper's advice. He had no recollection of telling Mr. Cowper that he was going to let the Dolly Varden matter take its own course and be settled by the courts.

SEND IMPOVERISHED CHILDREN TO OTHER LANDS TO RECOVER

New York, June 28.—Undernourished children in Germany, suffering from malnutrition, many of them unable to walk, will be sent to Norway and Switzerland to recuperate, the American Jewish Relief Committee announced to-day. An initial expenditure of $1,000,000 to take these children from their surroundings of misery and starvation to the healthy climates and good foods of Norway and Switzerland has just been made by the Joint Distribution Committee, which disburses all funds raised by the American Jewish Relief Committee and its allied organizations. This is a continuation of the policy of Jewish Relief work with the hungry, sickly children of Eastern and Central Europe, the committee having previously aided in sending several thousand children from starry Vienna to Trieste and Holland, where they will be nursed back to health in private homes. Undernourished children in Warsaw have been sent, several hundred at a time, for long vacations in the country around Warsaw, where, fed with American milk and food and allowed to play as much as they wished, they quickly regained their health. The sending of Germany's sickly children to Norway and Switzerland will be under the direction of Dr. Julius Goldman, a noted social service expert of New York, who has just arrived in Europe as European director-general of all American Jewish Relief work.

You can make almost any man nervous by telling him that a policeman was asking about him.

ESTIMATES POINT TO AIR DEVELOPMENT

Local Aviators Pleased With Addition to Previous Announcements

Considerable interest has been aroused among the local flying men over inclusion of several Air Board items in the supplementary estimates. Of a total of $1,650,000 to be voted to aeronautical purposes, $850,000 has been allocated for civil aviation, and the remainder for the military branch of the service. Severally the items are $50,000 for survey of air routes, and the local aviators think this is in connection with the Aerial Map of Canada, which will cover a belt fifty miles wide throughout the entire Dominion from East to West. $200,000 for flying operations for other government departments, presumably in connection with the civil service branch of the Air Station at Borden, with an additional $450,000 for upkeep, maintenance, and replacements of aircraft and equipment in connection therewith. The figure of $200,000 for flying training creates interests amongst the local aviators, many of whom are already enrolled in the Militia Air Service of Canada, and will no doubt go to the Borden camp for the periodical re-training of pilots and other branches of the air service work on the military side.

It is not known locally whether the $300,000 for the civil air station refers to the Borden flying station already in operation, where the old organization and equipment of the Imperial Air Service is in use, whether the figure has reference to the new coastal seaplane and flying boat station at Jericho Beach, Vancouver.

Ready to Start
Work on the Vancouver Air Station has been in tentative progress for some weeks past, and the personnel has been ordered to report July 1. Major MacLaurin, of the Air Board staff, is at present in charge of the work and has acquired many of the members of the former R. A. F. from their applications through the Civil Service Commission. Amongst the two latest applicants who have been successful in securing appointment to the Vancouver Station are the riggers and fitter that first operated with the machines of the Aerial League of Canada here. Both held responsible positions in the mechanical staff of the old training centre under the Imperial regime at Borden flying school, and will have to take up their new duties early next week. One point that the local flyers are much interested in is the question of whether the figure of $1,650,000 in the supplementary estimates is in addition to the $1,000,000 that it was already announced as voted to the development of aeronautics in Canada, or is inclusive with the additional $650,000.

POPULAR LITTLE GIRL RECOVERS

"I'm the Happiest Woman in the World Since Tanlac Restored Her," Says Mother

"Tanlac has done so much for my little eleven year old daughter, Kathleen, that I just can't help but praise it to the skies," declared Mrs. Finlay Fraser, wife of a well-known contractor of Winnipeg, residing at 612 Gertrude Avenue.

"About two years ago," said Mrs. Fraser, "Kathleen began to suffer from rheumatism, and on coming home from school in the afternoons she would just lie down on the couch and complain of pains and cramps in her legs, and would never go out to play with the other children. She gradually got worse all the time, and finally had to give up school altogether. Last winter her feet became so sore and swollen that she couldn't bear for them to touch the floor or even get her shoes on, and she continually complained of pains in her arms and legs. For six weeks she was in bed flat on her back, and her arms, legs and shoulders were so painful and swollen that she couldn't move, and her body ached so that she just screamed out in agony. Her appetite was so bad that she didn't want even the faintest of dishes which I fixed for her, and the little she did eat nauseated her, and she had severe headaches. Although we paid out a small fortune nothing seemed to help in any way, and she got to where she was even unable to feed herself, and was helpless as a baby."

"She was suffering so that I was just ready to try anything as the treatments and medicines we were using were doing no good, and I suggested to my husband that he get her a bottle of Tanlac, but we didn't see much result until she had finished the third bottle, and then we noticed that she was improving right along. She has taken five bottles now, and has been built up so in every way that one would hardly take her for the same child. All the swelling has gone entirely, she is up running around playing like she used to before she ever got sick, and she says she never has a pain of any kind. She has such a splendid appetite that she just refuses anything on the table, is never bothered with headaches now, and has gained fourteen pounds in weight. I'm the happiest mother in the world since Tanlac has made my little daughter well again, and want to be praising it all the time, and my husband is just as enthusiastic over it as I am."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas, and Laga's Drug Store, Esquimalt Road.

John Handley habitually in evidence for fighting when in a too amicable mood, was sentenced to two months to-day with hard labor for fighting while drunk. Wiseman, the man who was struck by Handley, said that he was "slightly peevish because Handley hit his arm and therefore struck him," that was how it started but it did not finish until the police had pulled the two apart. William Brook charged with disorderly conduct, on remand, was further remanded on application of the city prosecutor.

RELIEF CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES SLOWLY

Local Committee Appeals For More Workers and Donations

Subscriptions to the Canadian Jewish Relief campaign, which commenced yesterday, are disappointing in number, and comparatively few in amount so far, according to the report of the local campaign manager. The envelope collection proved satisfactory, but there is urgent need of more donations if Vancouver Island is to take her share in the aiding of the stricken people of Central Europe. There is a dearth of canvassers in the city and the committee would gladly welcome men or women volunteers ready to give a few hours daily to this worthy cause. Conveners have been appointed to undertake collections Wednesday, Friday and Saturday in the various stores as follows: Mrs. F. Osborne, The Merchants' Bank, Royal Bank, Imperial Bank, Bank of Montreal, David Spencer's, Terry's, Woodworth's and the Pemberton Building; Mrs. H. E. Levy, the Dominion Hotel, Kirkham's, Gordon's, Ltd., Gordon Drysdale's; Miss B. Landsberg and Miss Katherine Adams, the Empress Hotel; George G. Bushby is in charge of the local organization.

Mr. Anschell to-day emphasized the necessity for everyone to contribute to this fund, if only as a measure of self-protection. Millions of people in Central and Eastern Europe are dying of starvation and typhus and unless adequate relief measures can be taken the plague which now affects the stricken countries may creep across to these shores and work deadly havoc. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure and a timely donation now may go far towards protecting Canadian homes and lives from the terrible scourge which is blighting Central Europe.

FOREST FIRES

Department Reports Conditions Safe Throughout the Province, But Warns Against Carelessness.

According to reports reaching the Forest Branch of the Provincial Department of Lands this morning from the various forest districts throughout the Province fire conditions in the wooded areas are considered safe for the time being.

In several of the prescribed areas the weather during the last few days has been of the showery variety, while the vegetation fairly generally is damp. It is pointed out by officials of the Forest Branch, however, that a sudden apparent return of the heat wave it is highly essential that campers and picnickers use every possible precaution by leaving the remains of camp fires well saturated with water.

It is frequently easier to count the cost than it is to pay it.

DRYDOCK ISSUE AGAIN BEFORE BOARD

Quadra Street Crossing Is Dangerous to Traffic

A meeting of the Council of the Victoria Board of Trade held this morning with President J. L. Beckwith in the chair, transacted business affecting a number of different issues of importance. Some twenty members were present.

Too Dictatorial?
Brought up by a letter from H. W. R. Moore, of the Returned Business Men's Association, the fact that there was no inclusion in the supplementary estimates for the Esquimalt Drydock elicited some discussion. The letter from the association called upon the Government to take instant action in calling for tenders for the drydock, but the Board of Trade members, while stating that they were in fully sympathy with the project, objected to the wording that might be construed to be a little dictatorial. It was decided on a motion from J. H. Beatty to advise the association of the action taken previously on this point, and, further, to request information from the authorities as to the developments that have occurred in the drydock situation. Hon. S. F. Tolmie is to be communicated with and asked if he requires any further support to advance the project to the point of obtaining tenders.

Railway Crossings.
Railway crossings classed as dangerous on the Quadra Street and Burnside roads came in for discussion, it being stated that George A. Mountain, Railway Commission Engineer who recently inspected the crossings, suggested automatic alarms with semaphores. Ex-President Kingham stated that the Lake Hill postmaster told of six accidents there in nearly every week, and that the cause was speeding over the track. The difficulty was said to lie in the fact that trains passed so seldom that drivers rarely expected the train and crossed too fast to get control of their machine. D. O. Lewis spoke to the point, stating that no action was taken as far as he could say, but that the matter was under consideration by the authorities. A temporary palliative it was suggested that drivers be warned to proceed more carefully and that the trains be equipped with bells to ring when approaching the crossings. Numerous items of business were disposed of, mainly along minor lines.

CHANGE MIND AGAIN AND DECIDE CURFEW SHALL NOT RING

Aldermen Switch on Second Vote and Whole Curfew Scheme Is Killed

As a result of one of those sudden changes of mind that have made the City Council proceedings so amusing lately, the plan to enforce the Curfew By-law was unexpectedly killed at the last minute by the Mayor and aldermen last night. As a matter of fact, the Council first of all voted in favor of the curfew scheme, but when Alderman Patrick, father of the project, insisted that the vote of each alderman be recorded, a sufficient number of members switched about to reverse the former decision. Consequently curfew will not ring to-night or any other night this year so far as the present Council is concerned.

It will be recalled that the Council, after hearing the contentions of a delegation of ladies, recently decided about the Curfew By-law into operation again. Scarcely any opposition was raised to the plan at that time and Alderman Patrick, chairman of the Legislative Committee, went ahead and tried to secure some satisfactory curfew alarm. By the provisions of the by-law the curfew was to be enforced by a whistle at the Electric Light Station. This whistle is no longer in existence. The aldermen therefore introduced Mrs. H. E. Levy, the Dominion Hotel, Kirkham's, Gordon's, Ltd., Gordon Drysdale's; Miss B. Landsberg and Miss Katherine Adams, the Empress Hotel; George G. Bushby is in charge of the local organization.

Aldermen Were Gay Dags.
"There's no doubt," the Mayor affirmed, "that the young people of the city resent this curfew plan. They say: 'You old councilmen have had your day—and been pretty gay old sports, too—and now, with one foot dangling in the grave, you try to tell us to do this and do that!'"

"I am home early every night except Council meeting nights," pleaded Alderman Patrick, who appeared to consider that the Mayor's remarks referred particularly to him.

"Why give one or two people the job of enforcing this by-law—ringing a bell, or blowing a horn or playing an organ up at the Cathedral?" demanded Alderman Andros. "It's absurd. The children of this day are not amenable to such things. We might just as well have our money. The children won't pay any attention to us for a moment. We're supposed to look after the city's affairs, not to bring children in when their parents can't. How can we be successful when the parents are not? I am opposed to the whole thing, especially the spending of the money."

"If there is one class in the community to which we should cater it is the mothers, who sent an influential delegation to us to urge the enforcement of the Curfew by-law," urged Alderman Sangster.

No One Suffering.
"Who is suffering under present conditions?" asked Alderman Cameron, "and where is the agitation in favor of reviving the curfew? Apparently the curfew was not appreciated and did little good, or the weight of public opinion would have forced its continuance. If the demand for the curfew is no stronger than represented by the women's deputation which came before the Council apparently the curfew is not wanted. The indications are that it's not wanted."

A Change of Heart?
"When the ladies' deputation was here I did not hear any of the aldermen who have spoken to-night say anything against the curfew," remarked Alderman Patrick. They were led to believe that the plan would be favorably considered. There's nothing drastic in the provisions of the Curfew by-law," the alderman went on, reading the ordinance in question. "If it has not been enforced whose fault is that? Not the public's but the Police Commission's or the Council's. We should act a little consistently once in a while, you know. We should make a sincere effort to keep the children off the streets after dark, because no child ever learns anything good on the streets after dark."

Alderman Fullerton was inclined to favor the Curfew plan but he felt that children attending evening meetings of such organizations as the Boy Scouts and the Y. M. C. A. should not be forced to go home at the curfew hour.

The Mayor thought that the provisions of the by-law would apply to such children, but Alderman Patrick said they would not.

"Make the by-law operative, but why go to the trouble and expense of ringing the bell," asked Alderman Andros. "It's a waste of money and a waste of time. We might just as well keep horses in the fire department as do that. It's out of date. There's also a worthy collection of peanut straws which are banded and bound with quality cord ribbon. Reduced to $3.75.

The First Vote.
When the vote on the main amendment was taken, Mayor Foster and Alderman Dinnsdale and Alderman Cameron alone opposed.

"The amendment's carried," the Mayor announced.

"But you've got to have the vote recorded and taken by a show of hands," suggested Alderman Patrick, "so that I can't be accused of putting this nuisance by a snap vote, as I have been in connection with daylight saving."

The Second Vote.
Apparently Alderman Patrick's insistence annoyed his colleagues. When the aldermen who favored the amendment were asked to put up their hands, only Alderman Patrick, Sargent, Dewar, Fullerton and Johns did so. Alderman Sangster and Alderman Dinnsdale, who had not voted before, swung over to the opponents of the curfew plan, with the Mayor's vote also cast against it, the amendment was lost.

When the Council perceived, after a dazed moment of silence, that it had killed the whole curfew plan, roars of laughter resounded through the chamber. Such was the excitement and hubbub for a moment, indeed, that the business under way had to be suspended until the Mayor could bring the aldermen to order.

When relative silence had been obtained Alderman Patrick arose gravely and said: "I am sorry they got finished laughing they will find that they are laughing at themselves. The curfew plan is no pet scheme of mine, and I am perfectly satisfied with the result of the vote."

"That means that the thing is killed," the Mayor announced.

"I am sorry they got finished laughing they will find that they are laughing at themselves. The curfew plan is no pet scheme of mine, and I am perfectly satisfied with the result of the vote."

After the meeting was over Alderman Sangster, chairman of the Streets Committee, was asked how he could justify his opposition to the curfew plan after having assured the ladies' deputation which waited upon the Committee, that the matter would be favorably considered. He replied: "I told the ladies we would bring it before the Council, but I did not promise to vote for it."

Gomes Saves Tigers From Defeat by Late Homerun

With Two Men Out in Ninth Tacoma Fielder Drives Ball Out of Lot For Tying Score; Game Finished With Moon Shining Brightly; James Starts Badly.

Victoria, 5; Tacoma, 5.

Strange things happen in the course of a ball game, and some of the upsets are enough to break a strong man's heart. After the tussle at the Stadium last evening Cy Young walked home scratching his head and tried to figure out why the Goddess of Fate had pulled such a rude trick on him. Just because one of his gentle efforts which should have cut the corner edged in towards the centre of the plate Cy was robbed of a game, for Gomes, the fast centre fielder of the Tigers, kissed the ball and everyone gave a sigh, including Cy, as it sailed over Carman's head into no man's land.

It was a terrible climax to a see-saw game. After fighting their way into the lead after a bad start the Capitals seemed sure of the game. The fans were flocking out in the ninth inning after two of the Tacoma latters had been retired. Young's slow ball was working to perfection and Gomes hit two strikes on him. The moon came up and the "moonshine" seemed to stimulate Gomes to a great effort and at the same time not Cy into a staggering mood. It was then that the fateful ball was delivered. It almost cut the plate. In half an instant would have been candy for a batter. Gomes got his stick under the ball and its flight landed it clear of the park. This tied the score. Young then struck out Stevens for the third out, but the damage had been done.

Failed in Pinch. Victoria was helpless before the splendid pitching of Abrams in the ninth. Brown grounded out and both Carman and Dempsey struck out.

Russell James tried to pitch the Capitals to victory but he just lasted long enough to know that a game had started. In the first inning he walked Vaughan, who stole second, and scored on Graham's double. Stevens chased in Graham with a hot single to right field.

The Tigers grabbed two more runs in the second. Kierstead doubled and Edwards singled. Davis walked, filling the bases. This was sufficient for James and he was hustled to the dugout. Young was called upon to finish the hurrying. He did not begin in an auspicious manner, walking Vaughan and forcing in Kierstead. Gomes' single scored Edwards. The Tigers were kept well in check until the ninth, when Gomes' home-run tied up things. First Score in Second. Edwards, who twirled for Tacoma, missed a fast ball with a slow one, and was somewhat of a puzzle to the Capitals. Zienke, however, got a double off him in the second. Cunningham was hit by a pitched ball and Young singled, filling the bases. Elliott walked, forcing in Zienke.

In the fifth Victoria dug right into Edwards' slants. Elliott doubled and Church singled. Leard scored the pair with a triple to deep centre and later scored when Peppin let the return from the field get away from him.

Victoria went into the lead in the sixth, Elliott again being the trouble-maker. He was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second and crossed the pan on Church's double. Lots of Fun. There was a lot of excitement in the second. After a close decision by Umpire McCoy on a double-play Johnnie Hanley left the bleachers and squared up to his nibs. McCoy swung his mask and cut Hanley over the eye. It took about four players to put the fighting longshoreman off the field. The netting was all that saved McCoy from some rough treatment by the crowd. The umpiring during the game appeared poor.

The box score follows: Victoria—A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. MRS. MORTON STRONG IN LADIES' SINGLES

Disposed of Mrs. Mogg Yesterday; Men's Doubles Will Be Feature To-night

Mrs. G. H. Morton, who eliminated Mrs. Rickaby in the first round of the ladies' singles, continues to sweep her opponents out of the way in the Tennis Handicap being held at the Willows by the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. Yesterday she defeated Mrs. Mogg, one of the staidest and best all-around lady players in the club.

A stiff fight was put up in the ladies doubles by Miss Neame and Mrs. Saunders before succumbing to the Misses Archibald and Hardie in a long three set match, the first set ending 11-5.

Berrill and Everall in the men's doubles, have come up very quietly and again won from their opponents, Christie and Steedman, fairly easily. This pair will take some beating as they are improving steadily.

The surprise of the day was the defeat of Bouchier and Gordon from the minus 40 mark, by Idiens and Leeming, from minus 15, by the score of 5-2, 6-2.

Morton and Miss Morton again emerged victorious in their mixed doubles against Whittaker and Miss Hardie, all three sets being very close, the second being won by the losers.

The weather yesterday was perfect and play improved considerably. The players hope that it will continue. Some of the matches will be played on Dominion Day in order that the semi-finals may be held on Friday.

One of the best matches to-night will be between Watson and Robertson and Whittaker and Cleri. The Results. Yesterday's results were as follows: Mrs. G. H. Morton beat Mrs. M. G. Moss, 6-0, 6-4. Misses Archibald and Hardie beat Mrs. Neame and Mrs. Saunders, 9-11, 6-2, 6-4. Russell beat Isard by default. Burrell and Everall beat Christie and Steedman, 6-4, 6-1. Misses Fox and Wilson play Misses Archibald and Hardie. At 6 p.m. Proctor and Miss Neame play Mrs. and Mrs. Mogg. Mr. and Mrs. Morton play Mr. Leeming and Kennedy.

Six strong rinks have been selected to represent the Beacon Hill Lawn Bowling Club against the Cedar Cottage bowlers who are coming from Vancouver on Dominion Day. The match will start at 3:30 o'clock sharp, and it is expected that a large crowd will assemble to witness the contest. On Empire Day the Vancouver Bowling Club sent over what was considered to be a very strong team and expected to carry away the colors of the local club, but they were decisively beaten, and the Cedar Cottage players have an idea that they can turn the trick. The local bowlers are making no predictions, but announce that they will be prepared for a great battle.

SAYS BULLS HAVE SPORTING CHANCE

Writer Declares Animals Given More Chance Than Foxes or Deer

London, June 29.—The hackneyed argument against bullfights, that the bull has not a sporting chance, is refuted by the death in Madrid of the idolized Joselito, who was gored to death in the eighth year of his career, according to a correspondent writing to the London Times on "The Psychology of the Bull-Ring."

"True that of the 1,430 bulls that Joselito disposed of in his brief career as a matador only seven succeeded in wounding his body, and one taking his life. Yet, even if we accept these figures as an average, though they result from the experience of the most skilful bull-dodger that the Spanish ring ever knew, they are amply sufficient to prove that the bull has a sporting chance considerably higher than that of the fox or deer."

"The opinion seems to be general in England that bull-fights satisfy a craving for cruelty and sanguinary scenes. Nothing is farther from the truth. It is not because bull-fights are sanguinary, but in spite of their being so, that Spaniards like them. It is seldom that the foreigner can appreciate a bull-fight as something more complex and dramatic than a picture. Once he has taken in the graceful curves of the ring, the movement, the color, and the merry hubbub of thousands of voices, and the blue sky overhead; once he has seen the despojo, the glistening costumes of the toreros, the quaint ceremony of the throwing of the key; once he has felt the first bull rush out from his dark cell, and suddenly stop, dazzled by the sun, cutting out on the yellow sand its beautiful profile—nothing remains in store for him save monotony, broken now and then by outbursts of disgust. But it is then that the true 'aficionado' begins to enjoy himself."

A very excellent programme of the latest dance music has been selected. Supper will be served at 11 o'clock and as it will be the members of the entertainment committee of the club.

ESQUIMALT STARTS SURVEY PROGRAMME

Bylaw Passed to Open Project Which Will Be Done Piecemeal

A road survey by-law received its final reading last night at the council meeting of Esquimalt Municipality, and forthwith became law. It is the first of a series of similar ordinances that is part of the general programme of disentanglement of road lines upon which the district has embarked. This present by-law provides for the re-survey of lots 43, 4, 5, and parts of lots 27, 8, 9, in a section north of the Esquimalt Road. It was decided by the council, in consideration of the advisability of having all the road lines located afresh, to do the most indefinite sections first, and to accomplish the general clean up without resorting to a district survey under powers from the Attorney-General.

Sewerage

The enforcement of the recent mandates in connection with the abolition of septic tanks caused considerable discussion. Reeve Lockley explained that while the council had no power to ignore further violation of its orders that all should be connected to the new sewer in the correct manner, nevertheless it would work a hardship on some to have to connect as their residences were old, and the entire sewer system would require remodeling.

"A lot of these drains are in shocking condition," said Mr. Lockley, "and it becomes a very serious matter in summer time. We must get the sewerage matter cleaned up; it is an old grievance, and is sure to hurt somebody's feelings whenever it is done. I suggest that we make a list of the properties thus affected, and investigate further," he concluded. The question arose on the application from one of the ratepayers asking that the sewer notice be allowed to remain in abeyance until a later date, as they had not the means to accomplish the necessary connections at the present time.

New Medical Officer

Dr. E. W. Doak, for four years health officer of Esquimalt, tendered his resignation, stating that he was not going to remain in town, and the vacancy was given to the only applicant, Dr. J. S. McCallum, who resides in the district, and will now be the medical health officer.

Lumber Prices

The price of lumber became the seat of a serious discussion, arising out of the question of giving Dominion Road, near Devonshire Road, a new three-plank sidewalk. The old lumber that was to have been used for the purpose had become too rotten, it was stated, Councillor Anderson explaining that it had been in use since the Pooley-Jardine election. The cost of 800 feet of plank was stated to be $210, and the asking for a re-survey of certain lots, was considered, but on a motion from Councillor Wise the company is to be notified that the request cannot be granted until two or more applicants apply for the re-survey. The letter stated that as at present constituted the lots were mostly under the water of the Gulf.

The municipal carts, wagons, grader and plow are to be painted at an expenditure of $130 on a recommendation from Engineer Bourne. The net price of municipal taxes closes on the last day of this month, and Clerk Pullen was instructed to enforce the increased rate after that date. Motion of a draft of a new by-law to ensure that persons subdividing property in the district would at least rough grade the roadway, was made, in furtherance of the survey tangle that has been agitating the district this year. The councillors stated that if the road was rough graded it would be on the way to completion without the district having incurred another expense.

It is probable that before he leaves the district he will take a trip up to the Campbell River district where the company holds large mining claims.

Dominion Day Fete

Ladysmith: For the past two weeks the committees having charge of the celebration of Dominion Day have devoted much time to preparing a programme and making all necessary arrangements for the great event. All reports made by the committee to the general meeting have been of the most encouraging character, and there is every reason to expect that the day will be one of enjoyment from the starting of the parade in the morning until the dance at night winds up the evening.

Cobbie Hill Discovery

Nanaimo: There is great excitement among residents of the Cobbie Hill district over what is reported to be a new discovery of coal of very good quality in the neighborhood, says the Nanaimo Free Press. This deposit has been known to some of the settlers for five years past, but they deemed it inadvisable to make any announcement at that time. It is stated on good authority, that important developments may be looked for in the near future.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

To Open Communication
Almost immediately now will the work start in the wagon road up the Salmon River to the Big Missouri Flats. This news will not only be gladly received by the companies operating in the district, but by everyone interested in the progress of Stewart. Construction of the road will make it possible to carry on much earlier shipping besides hastening the further development of new and rich showings. Very probably the road will be finished before the winter sets in and will be made as permanent as present conditions permit. Geo. A. Clothier, the district engineer, made the recommendation some time ago and when Hon. William Sloan made a personal visit to the district the matter was finally settled.

president and managing director of the Utica Mines, Ltd., gave details of his plans at the Hume Nelson, recently.

The old Sunset, under the late George Hughes, shipped over $500,000 worth of ore, some 2,000 tons, which averaged over $250 per ton at the old price of silver. The property was closed down on his death. Mr. Caldwell expects to continue the existing crosscut until it taps the vein at new depth. He hopes to have the property on the shipping list by the fall.

In connection with the Utica, an aggressive policy will be followed, this famous old property, which has latterly been producing wealth for lessors from its supposed exhausted upper workings, being billed for active exploiting.

In the development of the story and characterization.

The plot centers around Robert and Beth Gordon, married for ten years, but now beginning to drift apart. Beth was a charming girl. She has become a too wifely wife and bores her husband with her excessive solicitude for his comforts. He finds diversion in the company of vivacious, pleasure-loving Sally Clark. Literal-minded Beth imagines them in love. A divorce follows, and Robert marries Sally.

Too late Beth discovers why she has lost her husband and, blossoming like a rose, develops into society's gayest figure. Sally, on the other hand, is transformed by marriage into a worse household drudge than Beth ever was. Robert's eyes are opened when he again sees Beth, and through a dramatic series of events they are brought happily together. Thomas Meighan, Gloria Swanson, Bebe Daniels, Theodore Kosloff and others of note appear in the cast and an entertainment of real merit is assured all who attend the presentation of this splendid production. It was written by William DeMille.

VARIETY

"The Broken Melody," Eugene O'Brien's latest picture under the Selznick banner, will be the featured attraction at the Variety Theatre to-day. It is a charming study of two artistic temperaments—Stewart Clouston, a painter, and Hedda Dana, a singer, who come together through their diverging ambitions for worldly greatness, and separate for a period while each go their roads that lead to fame, but love eventually reunites them, both wiser but no sadder, because they find that the fame they have won apart may be shared together. Action in "The Broken Melody" varies between Europe and America, beginning in the famous section of Old New York known as Greenwich Village, from thence to Europe and back again to America. It is a simple love story done with charm and distinction, and should appeal to all lovers of good drama. "The Broken Melody" was written by Ouida Bergere and directed by William P. E. Earle. Both author and director are foremost in their respective arts, and the result is a photoplay that is thorough in every respect. The star has been given a notable supporting cast, headed by Lucy Cotton and Corrine Barker, and the completeness with which Selznick produces a play is particularly evident in this picture.

A Way to Dainty Teeth
To Safer, Whiter, Filmless Teeth

Film on Teeth
Is What Wrecks Them

Dental science has found that most tooth troubles are due to a slimy film. You can feel it with your tongue.

That film clings to the teeth. It gets between the teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary dentifrice cannot dissolve it. So its damage is unceasing.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of many other troubles, local and internal.

That is why brushed teeth discolor and decay. Why tartar forms and pyorrhea starts. You may remove the debris, but the real cause of tooth troubles—the clinging film—is largely left to do its damage.

Now dental science has found a way to combat that film, after years of searching. We ask you to accept a ten-day test and see the results for yourself.

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

See How Teeth Glisten
When the Film is Gone

The results of Pepsodent show clearly in white, glistening teeth. You can see them everywhere, for a million folks now employ it. You can see them on your own teeth when you remove the film. And that's the purpose of this ten-day test.

Based on Pepsin

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The purpose of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

But pepsin must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. So pepsin long seemed impossible.

What science has now done is to invent a harmless activating method. That method is employed in Pepsodent. The result is a tooth paste which will do what nothing else has done. And five years of tests seem to clearly prove that it opens a new dental era.

Pepsodent has been submitted to every form of clinical and laboratory test. Dentists everywhere have watched its effects and now urge its daily use. This week we offer a test to you, and we ask you to accept it.

Look in Ten Days

We urge this test for your sake and your children's sake. Children have most to gain from cleaner, safer teeth. Try to avoid the troubles we have had.

Present this coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Use like any tooth paste. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

A book comes with the sample tube, explaining the results. Learn the reason for them. Compare them with the results of old methods. Then let your own good sense decide what method to employ.

This test is of lifetime importance, both to you and yours. It has shown at least a million people the way to whiter, safer teeth. Someone in your home should make it. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

A scientific film combatant which is now advised for daily use by leading dentists everywhere, after years of tests viewing her efforts in a half dozen or so preceding plays, the current one seems to go just a trifle farther in establishing the versatility of this charming Select star. In "The Veiled Adventure," a highly entertaining and novel story has been built around a grey chiffon veil which Geraldine Barker found in the overcoat pocket of her fiancé, who was recognized among the smart set as the "catch of the season." Geraldine had consented to become his wife more in order to gain a triumph over the other society beauties than for any other reason. In fact, as the plot develops, she discovers that the veil belongs to Mlle. Hortense, a beauty expert with whom he is going about, and she becomes doubtful as to whether she really becomes a beauty expert herself, meets Richard Annesly and changes her views of life and men.

Announcement has just been made that the celebrated comedians, Mr. and Mrs. Carter de Haven, are to be affiliated with the Arthur S. Kane Pictures Corporation. Their productions will be released through the First National Exhibitors' Circuit. This is the second big acquisition by the Kane concern. Charles Ray having joined the organization at the time of its inception. The new union brings together two of the most popular comedy actors of the stage and screen and one of the best known figures in the producing field, a strong combination of artistic and business talents.

"Other Men's Shoes," the first of Edgar Lewis productions released by Pantages, thrilled those who witnessed the exhibition at the Pantages yesterday. The novelty of having motion pictures at the Pantages for Monday and Tuesday of the week drew much too small an audience for so fine a screen production. It proved to be one of the most absorbing screen dramas ever presented to Victoria audiences. Noted for his virile, red-blooded productions, Mr. Lewis does not disappoint his followers with this latest effort. The story, which tells of a twin brother stepping into his weaker

Could Not Sleep

Mr. Earnest Clark, Police Officer, 338 King St., Kingston, Ont., writes: "For three years I suffered from nervousness and sleeplessness. I believe my condition was brought about by overwork. I had frequent headaches, neuralgic pains and twitching of nerves and muscles. I had indigestion, was short of breath and easily tired. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and seven boxes of this medicine cured me of all my symptoms. I am now feeling one hundred per cent. better than I was, and have to thank Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for the good health I am now enjoying."

ENGINEERS TO MEET IN CONVENTION SOON

Gathering Is Timed to Be Held at Banff in August

A great meeting of members of the Engineering, Mining, Architectural and Surveying Institutes of the provinces of Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba and Saskatchewan will be held at Banff in August next, under the auspices of the Calgary Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

The meeting will be a Western Professional Meeting, and it is earnestly hoped that every member of either of the above mentioned professions will make an effort to attend in order that the meeting may be a grand success.

Although professional business meetings will be held, the assembly will parake of the nature of a gigantic outing, and members taking their families will not be lacking. The fact that a camp, beautifully situated on the Bank of the Bow River, is planned for the time in tents, will be an appeal to all who can do so to attend.

The camp will be open on Saturday morning, August 14, for any one who wishes to spend the week-end in Banff. Professional meetings will begin Monday morning, August 16, and conclude Wednesday night, August 18, and the camp will be broken up on August 19.

A committee of eleven members of the Calgary Branch of the Engineering Institute, under the chairmanship of G. W. Craig, M.E.I.C., City Engineer of Calgary, has been appointed to make the necessary arrangements, the secretary being F. E. Emery, A.M.E.I.C. of Gorman, Clancy & Grindley, Calgary.

An effort will be made by the local branch of the Engineering Institute 616, Belmont House, to issue an invitation to everyone in the professions but any member who does not receive one personally may do so by communicating with the Secretary of the Victoria Branch, E.C. H. M. Bigwood, at the above address.

DEFENCE PRESENTS CASE TO COURT IN OLIVER-ELLIOTT SUIT

Shown Bill on Boat.
J. S. Cowper, M.P.P., of The Sun, Vancouver, was still under cross-examination by Mr. Maclean when the court resumed yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Cowper testified that the bill giving the Dolly Varden property to the Taylor Engineering Co. was introduced at midnight on April 16, by the Premier on a special message from the Lieutenant-Governor. The Legislature prorogued at noon the next day.

Mr. Jackson objected that the witness was wrong about certain facts. He said the proper way to bring out these facts was by the records of the House.

Mr. Jackson then asked Mr. Cowper about the proposed Dolly Varden legislation that Mr. Taylor had shown him on the boat from Vancouver.

"That bill expressly prevented access to the courts by the Dolly Varden people," asked Mr. Jackson.

Voted For Bill.

"Yes, except by fiat of the Attorney-General," replied Mr. Cowper.

Mr. Jackson had Mr. Cowper identify a copy of this proposed bill and he put it in as an exhibit.

"This bill was introduced or was there any amendment?" asked Mr. Justice Macdonald.

"There was an amendment introduced by the Attorney-General," replied Mr. Cowper. "It was to widen the scope of a clause in the bill."

"Did you vote for the bill?"

"Yes, I voted for the bill."

No Pressure From Premier.

"Was there any pressure brought by Mr. Oliver for you to vote for it?"

"Oh, no, not the slightest."

Mr. Maclean arose to start further examination. Mr. Jackson objected.

"This is a re-examination on some new matter," said Mr. Justice Macdonald. "We will get through some time this week, I think. There must be some finale to this."

Mr. Maclean then asked several questions.

"Easy Judge."

"If this case ever gets further they will say what an easy judge that was," Mr. Justice Macdonald broke in when Mr. Jackson arose to ask what interest Mr. Cromie, of Vancouver had in the Dolly Varden matter.

Mr. Jackson read part of the discovery evidence to show that Mr. Elliott sent the alleged libel telegram from Vancouver and waited in the telegraph office until he saw the telegraphers "going through the motion of telegraphing" it to Victoria.

Picked on Newspaperman.

Parts of the evidence were also read to show that Mr. Elliott picked on Mr. Cowper as the one to whom he addressed his telegram "because he was a newspaper man," a member of the staff of The Vancouver Sun.

A. E. Starr, telegrapher at the Parliament Buildings, employed by the Provincial Government on receiving C.P.R. and other company's messages, swore that he received the Elliott telegram at 12:20 at night on April 12. He identified the message as the one delivered to the Premier.

He also identified the telegram sent to Mr. Cowper. Both were delivered within a minute of one another.

Took it as Attack.

"What impression did that bring to your mind, Mr. Starr?" asked Mr. Jackson.

"I understood that it was a personal attack on Mr. Oliver," replied Mr. Starr. "But I must say the impression I got at the time was very vague as I was very busy. But I read it later and the impression I got was the same as the public got, that Mr. Elliott was making assertions against the honesty of Mr. Oliver both in his position and private capacity."

Mr. Starr read the telegram to the court explaining as he went along what he took to be the meaning of the sentences. He swore that from the telegram he thought Pettley and Keith were prospectors and that lands had been reserved for soldier settlement. Other sentences indicated to him that the Premier had gone up to have a look at these lands for soldier settlement and then the Premier had agreed to take over these lands at a "nominal" price.

Cut Out Soldiers.

"The meaning I took was that the Premier taking over these lands individually blocked their use for soldier settlement purposes," Mr. Starr added.

This ended Mr. Jackson's case for the plaintiff. He called only Mr. Cowper and Mr. Starr.

Act Did Not Please.

Mr. Maclean then opened his case for the defence.

"In 1919 there was an act passed taking away very valuable property from the Dolly Varden Company, Alice Arm and vesting it in the Taylor Engineering Co.," said Mr. Maclean in his address to the jury.

"The Dolly Varden Company was not only satisfied with this and made application to Ottawa to have this act disallowed. But the Minister of Justice decided that the Act should be left to its operation when it could be tested by the courts."

"This brings us to April 12 about the time that the date expired for the disallowance of the 1919 Act."

Rumors Arrive.

"Rumors came to Mr. Elliott that there were further raids to be made on the Dolly Varden people just after he had started action to have the Act disallowed."

Mr. Elliott explained that Mr. Elliott caused inquiry to be made in Victoria and he got back the answer that no action was intended and the whole thing was to be left to the courts.

But on April 16, Mr. Elliott got word that legislation was intended. On April 12 he had launched his action to prove in the courts that the previous legislation was ultra vires. So Mr. Elliott sent his telegram. But this did not stop Mr. Oliver bringing down legislation and rushing it through, confiscating the property of the Dolly Varden Mines.

Awakened at Midnight.

After midnight on April 16, Mr. Elliott was awakened in his room in the Vancouver Annex by a newspaper reporter who explained to him that the whole thing was being rushed through over in Victoria. Mr. Elliott then sent the rush telegram protesting that the Premier was not a fit person to occupy high office. This led to the bringing up of the land charges counsel stated.

"Compromised Position."

"The case," Mr. Maclean went on, "that Mr. Elliott has against Mr. Oliver is that, 'You, John Oliver, took advantage of your position to get that land, practically to force those men to give you that land.'"

When the Premier went North he saw that section 408 of the Pettley and Keith property was the finest, said Mr. Maclean. Later, Mr. Maclean said, they sold it, but to ingratiate themselves in the Premier's favor they bought it back to turn over to the Premier at the same price.

"The inference is that at the very least the Hon. Mr. Oliver puts himself in a terribly compromised position," said Mr. Maclean. "Having dropped in 1917 section 341, when he realized it was risky, in 1919 he is prepared to take it. He says he wants it for his son, but then he later drops it. It is open to fair inference that these men gave him that land so that

Premier Fancied Land.

Mr. Maclean put in the writs issued by the Dolly Varden Mines against the Taylor Engineering Co., Ltd., issued on April 12, 1920, in Vancouver, for a declaration that the 1919 Dolly Varden Act was ultra vires and against the Taylor Company for wrongfully entering upon the Dolly Varden property.

Charles John White, barrister of Vancouver, was called by Mr. Maclean.

Mr. White told of meeting the Premier in his (White's) office in November, 1917. The Premier had come to inquire about some land, sections 408 and 409, at Ootsa and Francois Lake. He was introduced by Mr. Savage. He said he was much impressed by the land in that country and would like to buy the two sections. He said he was willing to pay $5 an acre.

"Bad Ad. For S. C."

Mr. White swore that Pettley and Keith, the owners, whom he represented, had paid more than $5 some years before, and had since paid taxes. Mr. White swore he told the Premier he could not recommend $5 an acre to the owners, as it would be a bad advertisement for the Province if it became known that the Premier thought best lands worth no more than $5 an acre.

"What did the Premier say?" asked Mr. Maclean.

"He said, 'If they will not be reasonable with the price we will tax them until they are reasonable,'" replied Mr. White.

The acreage of each is about a full section, he explained.

Mr. Cromie on Job.

In October, 1919, Pettley and Keith sent Mr. White conveyances for this property with instructions to arrange to turn them over to the Premier. Mr. White went on. He said he got Mr. Cromie to do the communicating with the Premier.

On cross-examination Mr. White said that he knew the Premier was discussing section 341 at $5 an acre. The Premier, Mr. White swore, said he had bought section 341 at $5 an acre. He denied that the Premier had told him he was willing to go as high as $12 an acre for the Pettley and Keith property.

Landholders' Views.

Mr. White admitted that the Land Settlement Acts were discussed. Mr. White also admitted that he had tried to impress upon the Premier his view and the view of his clients, who were large land holders in the Province.

Mr. White explained that his own views from experience on the Prairies were that fostered land settlement was a failure. Success came only when people came and bought their own lands.

Mr. White admitted that his clients were not in jeopardy of being included under the terms of any Land Settlement Act as the Land Settlement Act did not come until more than a year later.

"But we anticipated the Act," Mr. White added.

Believed it a Threat.

"You don't suggest that there was any connection between Mr. Oliver's threat to super-tax and his hope to get these lands?" asked Mr. Jackson.

"I took it seriously, and conveyed it to Pettley and Keith," replied Mr. White.

Mr. White admitted that he consulted with Mr. Cromie as well as with Pettley and Keith last October about these lands. Mr. Oliver's purchases were not discussed at that time.

Asks Court Protection.

Mr. Jackson asked about the interview with Mr. Cromie concerning the Oliver land proposals.

"Do you want it?" asked Mr. White.

"Yes," replied Mr. Jackson, and the court laughed.

"I must ask the protection of the court."

"Why?"

"I don't want to be the subject matter of another libel suit."

"Situation Delicate."

Asked why he did not take up with Mr. Savage the Pettley and Keith and Oliver proposals instead of going to Mr. Cromie with them, as it was Mr. Savage who introduced the matter to the Premier, Mr. White said:

"Diplomatic Plan."

"I thought the situation was rather delicate. I thought this would be diplomatic to negotiate with the Premier through Mr. Cromie, as Mr. Cromie is the mouthpiece of the Liberal party on the Mainland."

"What is that?" interrupted Mr. Jackson. "I thought I was a member of the Liberal party. Has Mr. Cromie ever told you of being turned down on the $10,000 subsidy for The Vancouver Sun?"

"No, never."

Examined further by Mr. Jackson, Mr. White said:

"Cromie Best Man."

"I went to Mr. Cromie because I thought Mr. Cromie was the best man to handle it. I thought Mr. Cromie and Mr. Oliver were close friends."

"I want to know why you, a lawyer, picked out Mr. Cromie, a third party, to handle this deal instead of going directly to the Premier?" asked Mr. Jackson.

Mr. White said he thought Mr. Cromie had the full confidence of the Premier. He swore that "Cromie and Pettley and Keith had been associated for years and years."

"Never Again."

"Mr. White, in your ten years' experience in legal practice, did you ever put through a deal like this by going to an utter stranger?" asked Mr. Jackson.

"I never did this thing before," replied Mr. White.

"There is no precedent for this, then?" interjected Mr. Justice Macdonald.

"You never did and I hope you never will again," said Mr. Jackson.

Tempting Premier.

Mr. White swore that there was a fixed price to be asked Mr. Oliver for this land.

"Before your communication with Mr. Cromie?" Mr. Jackson asked.

"I told him to suggest $10 an acre," replied Mr. White.

"Do you believe this to be less than the land was worth?"

"I was satisfied it was an exceptionally good buy at that price."

"Bribing Premier?"

"Would it be a fair sale at that price?" Mr. Jackson continued. "Do you suggest that you were asking for $10 an acre what was less than a fair price for this land?"

"I put it this way," Mr. Jackson asked emphatically, "were you trying to bribe Premier Oliver by offering this at $10 an acre? You don't suggest any impropriety in offering it at $10 an acre?"

"Absolutely none," replied Mr. White.

Cromie Mystery.

"Why all this mystery about Cromie and the Liberal party?"

Mr. White said that he "felt that the interests of these people were antagonistic to the interests of the Land Settlement Board."

Mr. Maclean wanted to bring in a letter Pettley and Keith had written Mr. White. Mr. Justice Macdonald, in the absence of protest from Mr. Jackson, however, ruled it out as he would protect Mr. White in his capacity as a member of the Bar from having to expose other irrelevant matters that are stated to be in the letter.

Mr. Jackson said he had no objection to the Pettley and Keith letter going in.

"Let the daylight in," he said. "Let's have all the daylight we can get on these affairs."

Half a Pineapple For One Dessert

In Jiffy-Jell desserts the fruit flavors are abundant. For instance, half a pineapple is crushed to make the flavor for one pint dessert. This is done in Hawaii from fruit too ripe to ship.

All Jiffy-Jell fruit flavors are made from condensed fruit juice. They come in liquid form—in vials—a bottle in each package. That is true of no other quick gelatine dessert.

A few cents will serve a real-fruit dessert for six people. No artificial flavor, no saccharine. It is the most delicious fruit dessert available, and it comes in ten choice flavors.

PUT ANTIS ON THE CEMETERY COMMITTEE ALDERMAN TODD URGES

"I move that all the aldermen who voted against my daylight saving plan be placed on a special committee to consider the necessity for a new cemetery," requested Alderman Todd as the City Council meeting was drawing to a close last night. "They would kill anything."
"I'm afraid the committee would be too large," replied the Mayor.
Alderman Patrick urged that the farmers among the aldermen should be appointed as they were good judges of soil.
"Finally the job of finding a new cemetery site was placed upon the shoulders of the regular Cemetery Committee.

SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE AND NAVY LEAGUE

Special Meeting Favors Separation and Future Management With New Status

A special meeting of the Victoria Seamen's Institute was held in the Belmont Building last night. The President, Rev. H. T. Archbold, was in the chair. The following resolution was unanimously passed:
"Since the conditions that obtain are largely the outcome of a misunderstanding of the relationship between ourselves and the Navy League, be it moved that we express our desire to dissociate ourselves from the Navy League, continue our work in the Connaught Seamen's Institute; and that with regard to Esquimalt, we endeavor to carry on that work until such time as the Government's naval policy is disclosed, and that if Esquimalt is no longer to be a naval base, we consult with the British and Foreign Sailors' Society Council in Toronto as to whether to continue using the present Naval Institute or to dispose of it and find a smaller equipment for the regular work amongst the sailors."

KILL TODD SCHEME TO SAVE DAYLIGHT

Aldermen Say They Looked Ridiculous Before, and Will Not Do So Again

Admitting that it had made itself look ridiculous in the daylight saving question before, and not wishing to make the same mistake again, the majority last night killed Alderman A. E. Todd's new scheme for saving an hour of daylight each day without putting the clocks ahead.
Alderman Todd explained to the Council that his plan merely proposed that a committee of the Council confer with the merchants and employees over the advisability of going to work an hour earlier in the morning and quitting work an hour earlier at night.

Former Arguments Will Do.
In answer to the anxious queries of Alderman Johns, Alderman Todd stated that he hoped to see his daylight saving plan in vogue this Summer. "Instead of taking up your time," he observed, "I shall appropriate all the arguments for saving an hour of daylight used by the aldermen last week."
"Produce your evidence instead of falling back on other people's," suggested Alderman Sargent.
Alderman Todd went on to declare that his resolution only proposed that the whole question be discussed and settled in a manner satisfactory to all classes of the public.
Alderman Fullerton deplored the Council's failure to adopt the plan. However, he could see no objection to the Todd proposal.

A Laughing Stock.
"We've been the laughing stock of the city for the last two weeks," exclaimed Alderman Johns. "The public is disgusted with the whole thing and it has reason to be. Let the people come to us if they want this scheme this year."
Alderman Sangster wanted it distinctly understood that he had seconded the Todd motion simply to get it before the meeting, but he had no intention of voting for it.
"You can fool all of the public part of the time, part of the public all the time, but you can't fool all the public all the time," remarked Alderman Patrick. "Two weeks ago," the Alderman recalled, "this Council passed a resolution asking the citizens to advance their clocks one hour."

The alderman reviewed the situation up to last Monday, when the Council had a letter from Seanchich objecting to daylight saving and enclosing a lot of correspondence addressed to the Seanchich Council. "Notwithstanding my objection, this was read," said the alderman, "but the other municipalities were not allowed to be represented because the Council voted down Alderman Sargent's resolution, asking the Mayor to see how they stood on the matter. That was the kind of work that went on!"

"Then the aldermen reversed the Council's previous decision to ask the citizens to put their clocks ahead. The city was in a hubbub on Tuesday. Then on Wednesday one of the opponents of daylight saving," he said, referring to Alderman Todd, "rushes down to the Notice Board to clear up the whole situation. You poor people," he says, "you have been all stirred up and I'm going to settle the whole matter for you!"

"A Howling Scram."
"The President of the Real Estate Exchange, I think it was, who said that an optimist in Victoria was a man who had faith in the City Council after the force of the last few weeks. If you could find such a man as that he would be a pessimist compared to the alderman who introduced this resolution. Talk about things being a farce—it's a howling scream!" Alderman Todd replied that Los Angeles, the largest city on the coast was saving Summer daylight without the force of putting the clocks ahead—a scheme which some people had "attempted to inflict on the public on a snap vote."

Alderman Patrick asked the Mayor to call Alderman Todd to order because, he claimed, the alderman was speaking too often and introducing new matter.
Resolution Rejected.
"I have a right to continue," retorted Alderman Todd, "if the alderman is as ignorant as that! The alderman's memory is defective. I have noticed that before! The alderman is not capable of making fine distinctions. His disposition is too cumbersome."
"We have made ourselves look ridiculous and should drop the whole thing now," advised Mayor-Fortner. When the Todd motion was put to the meeting it was supported only by Alderman Todd, Fullerton and Dewar.
